

Ascaridia galli

Goose

Guinea Fowl

Turkey

Taxonomic Consideration

Kingdom: Animalia

Phylum: Nematohelminthes

Class: Chromadorea

Order: Ascaridida

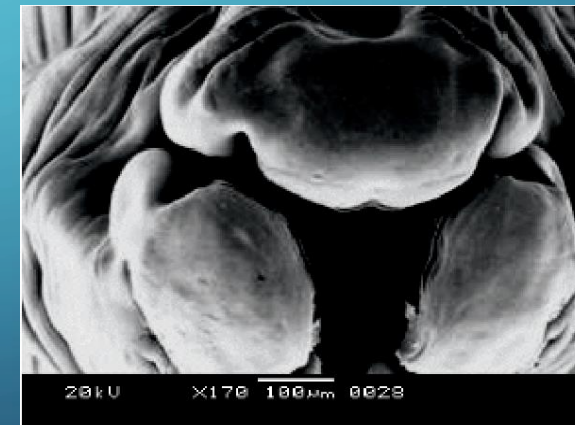

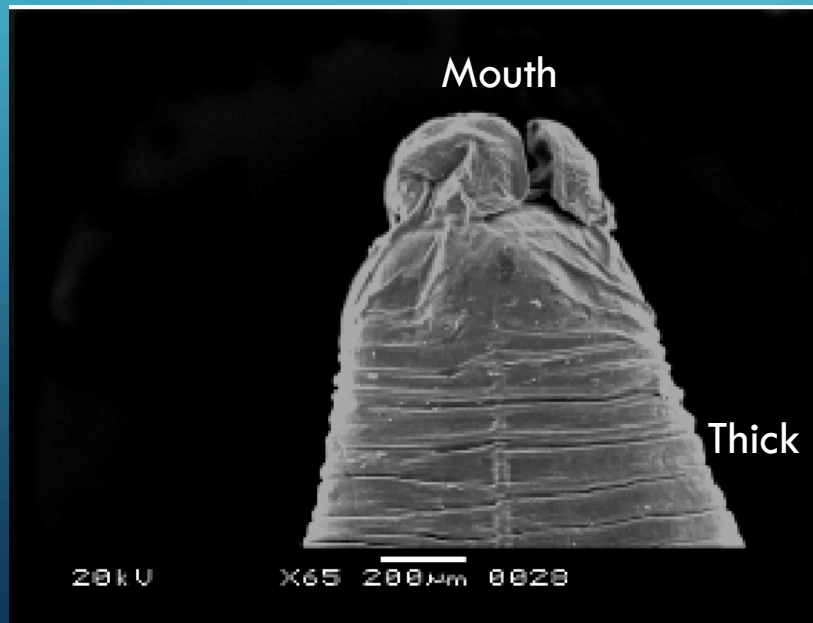

Family: Ascarididae

Genus: Ascaridia

Species: galli

Morphology

- The frequently have three large trilobed lips surrounding their oral opening. The edges of the lips bear teeth-like denticles.
- On two lips are small eye-like papillae.
- The body is semitransparent, creamy-white, and cylindrical

Thick proteinaceous structure (cuticle)

Morphology

A females are longer than males with a length of 72 - 112mm. While, males are around 50-76 mm in length.

Morphology

- Ascaridia galli male have a curved posterior terminal.

Morphology

- Ascaridia galli female have a straight posterior terminal.

Morphology

- Eggs have oval shape, smooth, measure 73-92 by 45-57 microns.

Life cycle

Ascaridia galli female

Ascaridia galli male